NOTE.

THE following notes are offered for the use of visitors to Mount Auburn during the present season, in the want of something better. The publishers had caused a book to be prepared, which might really serve as a guide to a stranger, but having been disappointed by their engraver, in whose hand the manuscript had been placed for illustration, they are obliged to defer its publication to another year. The late hour at which the present "Notes" have been prepared, must serve as an excuse for any deficiency.

JULY 1, 1849.

STRANGER'S GUIDE.

PASS directly on from the gateway through an avenue of pines. The first monument to be seen is on the left hand; it bears the name of SPURZHEIM. He needs no other inscription to keep his memory alive.

The avenue soon divides; our course will be to the right, but we pause at the point of separation, to inspect a bronze statue of BOW-DITCH. The statue was made from a design by Ball Hughes, which was much praised. The statue, however, proves not to be what was expected, and by reason of the exposure to which it has been subjected only about two years, it is now known that the bronze-like structure is fast decaying. Many imperfections have come to light, water has found admission into the interior, and washing through the iron filling helped to make the whole statue unseemly. Should it remain through another winter, it is feared that water freezing within will complete the ruin. The trustees, it is said, intend to remove it. We wish it were not a necessary duty.

Leave this on your left hand, and following the avenue sweeping to the right, you are soon at the Chapel.*

Between the statue and the chapel, however, you cannot have failed to notice as you passed, a handsome granite wall on the left of the avenue ; it is one side of an inclosure containing 2500 square feet, and belongs to the LAWRENCE family. It is the largest private inclosure in the Cemetery, and remarkable for its rich simplicity.

When you have examined the Chapel, pass out and turn to the right, taking the first avenue, (which is only a few steps from the chapel door.) Just as you turn down this avenue, you will notice a monument of sand-stone, covering a marble tablet, with bas relief figures. The lot is that of ROBERT G. SHAW.

* For a description of the chapel, its cost, &c. &c., see Appendix, p. 21.

A few rods further on upon your right hand, is the lot and monument of the DORR family. The fence is extremely heavy, and the monument certainly bears our climate better than any other marble structure in the grounds. By many this lot is esteemed the handsomest one in the grounds.

Continuing in the same direction a white marble monument to RICHARD HAUGHTON, erected on a triangular lot, next attracts the attention.

If you are riding, leave your carriage here, and pass up a quiet foot-path, (the junction of Yarrow and Green Brier Paths,) and you have before you the monument to WILLIAM ELLERY CHANNING, the celebrated theologian and Unitarian divine. The monument is from a design by WASHINGTON ALLSTON, and is of pure white marble.

We return to the avenue, and leaving Haughton's monument on the left, enter a part of the Cemetery known as "Oak Grove." It is full of beautiful lots, which are at once so open to the eye and shaded by the high branches of the oaks as to have made it the favorite section. Nearly all the lots are improved by the erection of beautiful monuments, among which are prominent the Cross-crowned stones on the lots of GOSSLER and PARSONS. Far more renowned is the marble figure of EMILY, the sleeping child;* it is on Yarrow Path, C. J. F. BINNEY'S LOT. The other details of the grove we leave you to discover by yourself, as you will easily do, understanding that we will meet you at the other end of the avenue, which is here so straight that you cannot readily get "turned round."

Turning to the left at the first corner, we pass down what is called Fir Avenue. On Mistletoe Path, which comes into this avenue on the right hand, at about a hundred feet from the corner, are the new tombs, the property of the corporation. The corporation owns a third tomb on Temple Hill, another part of the Cemetery, and also a tomb-right under Park Street Meeting House, in Boston. Owners of lots can deposit bodies in any of these tombs by giving bond either to Mr. Howe on the grounds, or at the City Hall, Boston, in the office of the Superintendent of Burials. The bonds are conditioned for the removal of the body in a specified period, viz.—if deposited between April 1st and October 1st, within two months; if during any other part of the year, within four months. No one but a proprietor has this privilege.

* The owner has been obliged to protect this delicate piece of sculpture from the weather by a glass case.

A little further on, you will observe on your right a very large piece of ground inclosed with an arbor vitæ hedge; it is nicely graded and grassed, and challenges attention from its beautiful simplicity. The lot is called ST. JOHN'S LOT. It has been prepared by the Trustees for single interments, by those who do not choose, or whose means will not allow them, to purchase a lot.* There are about 11,000 square feet in this inclosure.

Continuing upon the same avenue, it soon intersects with another avenue. At the intersection you will notice a triangular monument of white marble ; the lot is a triangular one, and the well-trodden approaches to the stone show how general an object of interest it is to visitors. At the base on two sides of the stone are figures in copper, and on the third side is shown a medallion bust of the deceased, CHARLES S. TORREY, who died in prison, suffering the punishment of laws which his earnest enthusiasm for freedom would not allow him to regard.

* The privilege of making a single interment in this lot may be purchased for the sum of ten dollars. For all matters connected therewith, apply to the superintendent, Mr. Howe, who may at all times be found on the grounds.

The avenue to the right hand is attractive, but just now continue along the same one (Fir Avenue) which we have been following. Leave the Torrey memorial on your right hand, and follow the avenue up the rising ground. You may be sure you are following your guide, if you see upon the left hand a granite shaft marked in gilt letters S. A. FULTON. We will use it only as a landmark, and follow the avenue.

Your guide next calls your attention to a rich iron fence, of a peculiar design, upon your right hand as you now approach it. The lot is a large one, containing 1819 feet. The fence is probably the most costly one in the Cemetery. The Scotch thistle, and the figure of ST. ANDREW, upon the gate, prepare the visitor to read the owner's name, "THE SCOTS' CHARITABLE SOCIETY, INSTITUTED 1657."

The Scots' lot lies at the corner of two avenues, and we must now turn round this abrupt corner to our right, and climb the hill which the avenue follows. On the left hand is a steep summit called Laurel Hill, but as we are just now bound for the highest part of the ground, Mount Auburn, it is hardly worth while to stop at inferior points. Our present avenue is a winding one; if you are riding, you may want to stop occasionally to stray on foot in some of the by-paths, but otherwise you will find no perplexing points, until upon the left hand, the drive-way to the summit comes in at a sharp turn. This drive-way passes in a circle round the very summit of the grounds, on which it was originally proposed to erect a tower of observation. May the commencement of it not be much longer deferred! On one side of this Mountain Avenue, are two richly furnished lots; those of H. H. FULLER, and the late ABRAHAM W. FULLER. Upon these lots stands an obelisk of the finest Quincy granite, 27 feet in height; the shaft alone weighs 22 tons.

Every point in the view is delightful ; every visitor should be on the lookout to secure the whole of it. We give no details, for it speaks for itself.

We now leave the summit, and carefully descending the avenue, turn to the left. A few rods from the corner, and still on your left hand is a lot, by many considered the most appropriately finished lot in the Cemetery. A high Cross of white marble, shaded in part by a hedge of barberry, prim, and sweet briar, (the natural growth of the spot,) and in part by overhanging trees, and the luxuriant grass, are all that make the spot so beautiful and so much noticed. The lot is owned by SAMUEL SWETT.

Our course is now for some distance near the outer edge of the wooded part of Mount Auburn, and upon the right beyond the open lands of the Cemetery, are views of Brighton, Cambridge, and Somerville.

Upon the right hand of the avenue we are following, are a large number of lots finished in a uniform style, with granite posts and chain work. Most of them were taken up at one time by members of a military corps in Boston, THE LANCERS.

A little further along on the left hand, standing on a triangular lot, is a granite tomb six sided, and built above ground. It is the property of the proprietors of the TREMONT HOUSE, Boston. This is a favorable point to leave the avenue, and visit one of the most noted parts of the Cemetery, Harvard Hill. Pass into the rear of the Tremont House tomb, and following any of the paths which lead over the rising ground on your left hand, you will find yourself among monuments to many of Harvard's honored dead. The names of KIRKLAND, ASHMUN, and others, are familiar to Harvard's many sons. As you return to the avenue we left, (Chestnut,) you will not fail to notice on a hill somewhat lower than Harvard Hill, a superb piece of Italian marble, exquisitely wrought into a beautiful structure, after a classical design. The hill it stands upon is called Cedar Hill, and the structure is well known as the property of SAMUEL APPLETON, a loved and honored name!

Square. Fronting on this square, is one monument well worthy of our notice, not for itself indeed, for it is of the most humble style, but as the burial place of HANNAH ADAMS, "first tenant of Mount Auburn," as the quaint epitaph has it.

On the same square too, you will notice a white marble fluted pillar, surmounted by an urn, and dedicated to the memory of JOHN MURRAY. This monument may serve as guide to Consecration Dell, the most easy entrance to which is in the rear of the Murray monument. The dell is justly considered the most imposing section of the Cemetery, and the feeling of reverence which rests on one as it opens to the eye, is the effect of nature, and the whole is in perfect keeping with the intended spirit of the place. It is intersected only by foot paths; but if you can bear the additional fatigue, you will be well repaid for a walk round them.

From Central Square we must make one other short excursion to visit Forest Pond and its vicinity. Not knowing whether you will choose to ride or walk, we must for once (most unwillingly,) refer you to the map attached to this volume. Forest Pond lies in a north-easterly direction from the Central Square; if you go on foot, follow Narcissus Path, which winds quite round the pond; if you ride, you must go a little more to the east, and be content to pass on only one side, and follow Willow Avenue. The noticeable points are, the LOWELL monument on that avenue, a heavy granite structure of an anomalous style and design; the OXNARD monument, a tall, highly ornamented shaft of sandstone, crowned by the Cross, which stands on the easterly side of the pond near one end of it; and also on the border of the pond, a tomb lot, the property of W. P. WINCHESTER, ESQ. The interior tomb is covered with a sandstone structure, in excellent harmony with the place, and having the appearance of a small chapel or shrine. The designs of this tomb, &c. were by Arthur Gilman, of Boston. Near the southern extremity of the pond, on Narcissus Path, is the burial place of the late MR. JUSTICE STORY. All these points the observer will find noted on our map.

The only considerable portion of the grounds which we have not now seen, is that lying between Central Square and the vicinity of the chapel, which is traversed by Cypress, Cedar, Central, and Beech Avenues.

Beech Avenue is the one nearest to Forest Pond. Conspicuous on this beautiful avenue, is a broken marble pillar. This was one of the earliest monuments erected in the Cemetery, and should be noticed as a mark of the taste of DR. JACOB BIGELOW. He has been the early, active, and constant friend and patron of the undertaking, and is now president of the corporation.

Central Avenue is more open to the sun than most parts of the Cemetery which we have been examining. Near one side, are two granite faced tombs, bearing the names of W. READ and S. O. MEAD; on the other, a broken pillar of white marble, to the memory of W. W. PECK; and the renowned dog of T. H. PERKINS, JR., cut in marble.

Upon the same avenue, and near the Bowditch statue, is a tall marble shaft in memory of those who perished in the U. S. exploring expedition, and for once we give the inscriptions.*

* See Appendix, p. 24.

Cedar Avenue is a very short one, and every lot upon it has been appropriated and improved; but the beautiful surface of the ground is little broken with monuments, and thus leaves conspicuous, the granite monument, marked MELZAR DUNBAR.

Cypress Avenue, the last of these central avenues, is noted for the large lot of 5400 feet, appropriated to single interments, and now nearly filled. It is known as ST. JAMES LOT. On this avenue, or rather near it, on a cross way leading to Eglantine Path, there has also been recently placed an exquisitely beautiful piece of Christian monumental sculpture. It consists of a figure of Faith, with eyes raised, and the Cross pressed to the bosom. The figure is in bas relief, upon a heavy head-stone of white marble, and bears the name of MARIA LOUISA FORD.

There now remains nothing, but that we take leave of you at the chapel. The shortest way to the gate, is the one by which you entered; but we advise you to pass round through Pine and Spruce Avenues, to the avenue in the rear of the chapel, one of the best views of which is from that spot.

APPENDIX.

THE ORIGIN AND GROWTH OF THE CEMETERY.

THE Cemetery of Mount Auburn, containing a hundred and ten acres, was inclosed and consecrated in 1831. It is therefore eighteen years since the place has been set apart for the purpose of sepulture. It appears to have been the first enterprise of the kind in this country, and is perhaps the first example in modern times, of a large tract of ground selected for its natural beauties, and submitted to the processes of landscape gardening, to prepare it for the reception of the dead.

The success of the undertaking, and its acceptance with the public, have become sufficiently manifest in the large list of its proprietors, and in the numerous imitations which have sprung up in different parts of the United States.

By the Act of Incorporation of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn, it is provided that the moneys which shall arise from the sale of lots shall be forever devoted to the preservation, improvement, embellishment and enlargement of the said Cemetery, and to the incidental expenses thereof. In pursuance of these provisions, the Trustees have expended a large portion of the surplus income derived from sales, in carrying into effect, as far as practicable, the original objects which were announced to the proprietors at the commencement of the undertaking.

The first inclosure of Mount Auburn was of pales, with a lofty entrance-gate in the centre, constructed of wood, the form of which was in imitation essentially of some of the gateways of Thebes and Denderah. In 1843 this gate was taken down, and reconstructed of Quincy granite, after the same design, at an expense of somewhat less than $10,000. In 1844, the increasing funds of the corporation having been found sufficient to justify the expenditure, a massive iron fence, about ten feet in height, with pales nearly two inches in diameter, was erected on the whole front, measuring about half a mile in length. It is supported on granite posts, extending four feet under ground, each having a base three feet wide in a direction traverse to the fence. Owing to the favorable time at which the contracts were made, the whole cost of this fence did not much exceed $15,000. The iron fence has since been extended along the eastern side, and a more convenient entrance for carts, &c. there provided. A contract has been made for a substantial timber fence, to be erected on the south and west sides of the Cemetery in the place of the fence of pales with which it is now inclosed.

In 1844 a channel six feet deep was dug from Forest Pond, in Mount Auburn, into Charles River. It is ascertained that there are within the inclosure of the Cemetery about eight acres of boggy, or inundated land. By the aid of the new channel, these acres can at any time be drained, and the whole, or any part of them, raised by new earth so as to become of equal value with the rest of the Cemetery. The cost of this channel was about $3000, including the perpetual right of drainage through the intervening estates.

A building, in the form of a Chapel, has recently been completed, with the double purpose of affording a suitable place for funeral services, which are often most conveniently performed within the grounds, and in order to provide for the reception of statues, busts, and other pieces of delicate sculpture, which were unfit to bear exposure to the weather. A marble statue of Judge Story, of the size of life, executed by his son, will probably be the first one placed there.

The edifice is of granite, measuring sixty-six feet by forty, and about eighty feet high. The details are mostly those of the continental Gothic, taken chiefly from approved examples in Germany and France. In reference to the proposed appropriation of the interior, the light is admitted only from the ends, and the clerestory. A large ornamental Rose window forms a conspicuous part of the front. The exterior is surrounded with a row of octagonal buttresses and pinnacles, and the clerestory is supported by Gothic stone pillars. The windows, which are of stained glass, with emblematic designs, were manufactured by Messrs. Ballantyne & Allan, of Glasgow.

Neither a friend or stranger can help observing the stains which disfigure the outside of the building. They arise from the use of stone which contains iron. There was no sign of this until the walls of the building had been erected for several months, and the use of it was a gross violation of the building contract, which the decomposition of the stone by exposure to the atmosphere, however, soon betrayed. No method of removing and preventing these stains is known to the Trustees. A liberal reward is offered by them for the discovery and communication of such a remedy.

The improvements next contemplated are, 1. To erect a tower or observatory on the top of the highest hill, from which a view may be obtained of the whole Cemetery, and of the surrounding country. 2. To drain and raise the low land within the inclosure, so as to make it available for Cemetery purposes. 3. To extend, improve and adorn the avenues, walks, and water courses, which the picturesque character of the place has rendered capable of almost indefinite improvement. 4. To reserve from the proceeds of sales a sufficient sum to constitute a permanent fund, the income of which may be forever adequate to keeping the cemetery in good order, and its structures in proper repair.

PURCHASE OF LOTS, &c. &c.

INQUIRIES are often made as to the steps to be taken in order to purchase a lot, and we will endeavor to point out the most convenient way. When you have determined to purchase, go at once to the Treasurer, George W. Bond, No. 55 Kilby Street, and pay for the lot. You will receive in return a certificate from him, and a proprietor's ticket of admission for a carriage. This is almost necessary, for until you have paid for a lot, you cannot have this privilege, and the grounds are so extensive that one cannot, without wasting a great many hours, travel about on foot and compare the different locations between which your taste and inclinations waver. The standard size of a lot is 300 feet, 15 by 20. The price of such a lot is $ 100, with twenty-one dollars additional for your deed and the right of locating where you choose.

Having obtained your ticket, ride to the grounds and consult with the superintendent, Mr. Rufus Howe. He is prompt, intelligent, and courteous, and will readily point out to you what are considered the most desirable sections, tell you which have not been taken, and show you such locations as may best suit your particular taste. When you have decided upon a spot, Mr. Howe will order a survey, and cause a deed to be prepared, which you may receive after a few days from the Treasurer, upon surrendering the certificate of payment.*

Lots of a size larger than 300 square feet may be had if desired by paying at the same rate, viz. $33\frac{1}{3}$ cents per square foot. It is not the intention of the Trustees to allow smaller lots to be laid out, but it necessarily happens at times that spots of land remain untaken which contain less than 300 feet. Where this is the case, such small lots may be purchased at the same rate, and you are entitled to admission as a proprietor, though not a member of the Cemetery Corporation.

Frequent inquiry is made as to tomb lots. The Trustees do not now allow the construction of tombs upon any newly purchased lots, except on those along the western line of the cemetery.

* The superintendent, Mr. Howe, will give you information as to fitting up the lot, and the best workmen to employ. The grading, turfing, and placing of boundaries, can be best done under his directions, and you had better employ him to keep the lot in repair. A very small sum will ordinarily suffice to do this.

In case of a loss of your admission ticket, apply to the Secretary, Henry M. Parker, at his office, in the Codman Buildings, 46 Washington Street. Any communications for the Trustees should also be left with the Secretary.

Notice of intended burials may be given to the Superintendent on the grounds, or left with the Superintendent of Burials, City Hall, Boston. Printed forms of application for permission to deposit bodies in either receiving tomb, or in any lot, may be had at either place, without which no interment can be made.

REGULATIONS CONCERNING VISITORS.

THE Secretary will issue to each proprietor one ticket of admission into the Cemetery with a vehicle, under the following regulations — the violation of any of which, or a loan of the ticket, involves a forfeiture of the privilege. In case of a loss of their Tickets, the Proprietors are requested to apply to the Secretary, from whom a new one can be obtained. This is necessary, as the Gatekeeper's orders are, to admit no proprietor without a ticket.

Any person who has a relative interred in St. James's or St. John's lot at the Cemetery, may, on application to any Trustee, or to the Secretary, receive a special pass into the Cemetery on Sundays.

Strangers can receive, on application to any Trustee, or to the Secretary, a permit to enter the Cemetery with a carriage, on any day other than Sundays or holydays.

The gates are opened at sunrise and closed at sunset.

No money is to be paid to the Gatekeeper.

No persons are admitted on SUNDAYS and HOLIDAYS, except PROPRIETORS and members of their HOUSEHOLD, and persons accompanying them.

No refreshments, and no party carrying refreshments, will be admitted to come within the grounds at Mount Auburn.

All persons who shall be found within the grounds making unseemly noises, or otherwise conducting themselves unsuitably to the purposes to which the grounds are devoted, will be required instantly to leave the grounds, and upon refusal will be compelled to do so, and will be prosecuted accordingly.

No vehicle is to be driven in the Cemetery at a rate faster than a walk.

No horse is to be fastened, except at the posts provided for this purpose.

No horse is to be left unfastened, without a keeper.

No person is admitted on horseback.

All persons are prohibited from gathering any flowers, EITHER WILD OR CULTIVATED, or breaking any tree, shrub, or plant.

Any person who shall be found in possession of flowers or shrubs while in the grounds, or before leaving them, shall be deemed to have tortiously taken them in the grounds, and will be prosecuted accordingly. N. B. — Persons carrying flowers INTO the Cemetery, to be placed on any lot or grave as offerings or memorials, are requested to notify the Gatekeeper as they pass in ; in every other case flowers brought to the Cemetery must be left without the gate, or with the Gatekeeper, until the owner passes out again.

All persons are prohibited from writing upon, defacing and injuring any monument, fence, or other structure, in or belonging to the Cemetery.

All persons are prohibited from discharging fire-arms in the Cemetery.

The Superintendent of the grounds, the Gatekeeper, and any other person acting under them, shall have a right to require his or her name from any person other than a proprietor or a member of his family, who shall visit the grounds, and upon his or her refusal, or giving a false name, to exclude them from the grounds.

The Superintendent, the Gatekeeper, and all other persons acting under them, have full authority to carry these regulations into effect, and will give notice of any violations thereof to the Trustees.

¶ The Superintendent has the care of the Cemetery, and is authorized to remove all those who violate these regulations or commit trespasses. Trespassers are also liable to be fined FIFTY DOLLARS.

IF TWENTY DOLLARS reward is offered to any person who shall give information to the Trustees, which shall lead to the conviction of the offender, of any trespass done by taking or plucking any flowers, shrubs, or trees, within the grounds, or of otherwise injuring the grounds, or of any other offence against the laws and regulations provided for the protection of the Cemetery and the monuments and erections therein.

PERPETUAL REPAIR OF LOTS.

INQUIRY is frequently made as to the terms on which the Corporation will contract to keep a lot perpetually in repair ; and the revolting state in which many old burial-grounds are seen to be, admonish us daily to make some such provision while we have time. It is one of the best things in the constitution of this Corporation, that it furnishes a medium in this changing community for providing a perpetual care and repair of our places of burial. No other method so secure could be devised.

Of course the sum for which the Corporation will assume this obligation is liable to vary with the peculiar site, size, and improvements of each lot. As a general rule, however, it is understood that the price will be, as to lots of 300 feet, with nothing more than a plain fence and monument, not less than $300 ; if the lot contains a tomb, not less than $500.

The Corporation, however, are ready to receive any sum, not less than $100, and hold the same in the manner indicated in the following declaration of trust. The difference is obvious. In the one case the perpetual repair is guaranteed at all events; in the other, the lot is only to be taken care of so far as the net income of the donation goes, and so long as it lasts. In the one case, if the investments of the "fund for repairs" fail, the obligation goes with it. In the other case, the duty exists as long as the corporation endures.

FORM OF DECLARATION OF TRUST.

N. B. Copies, printed on letter sheet, may be had on application to the Secretary.

[———— doth hereby give, or bequeath,] unto the Proprietors of the CEMETERY OF MOUNT AUBURN the sum of ————— dollars, for their sole use forever; in trust, nevertheless, that the Trustees of the said Corporation for the time being, shall, in order to obtain an income therefrom, invest the same from time to time, in their discretion, in some public stock of this State, or of the National Government, or in the stock of some Bank or Banks of this State, or in some personal notes or obligations of private persons, secured by a satisfactory collateral pledge or mortgage, on interest, and to apply the income or interest thereof, from time to time, after deducting therefrom the sum of fifty cents out of every hundred dollars of the sum so above given, as follows: —

FIRST.—To keep in suitable and good repair and preservation, Lot No. — in the said Cemetery, and the monument, fences, trees, shrubbery, and soil thereon.

SECONDLY. — To suffer the surplus, if any, of such income or interest to accumulate for such time as the said Trustees may deem expedient, or in their discretion to apply the same surplus, or any part thereof, from time to time, to the ornament and preservation of the grounds of the said Cemetery, or to any other, or all the purposes to which, by the Act of Incorporation, the funds of the said Corporation may be lawfully applied, and which are appropriate to the objects of the establishment of the said Cemetery.

Provided, however, That the said Trustees shall never be responsible for their conduct in the premises, except for good faith and such reasonable diligence as may be required of mere gratuitous Agents; and provided further, that the said Trustees shall in no case be obliged to make any separate investment of the sum so given, and that the average income or interest derived from all funds of the like nature belonging to the Corporation, shall be divided annually, and carried proportionally to the credit of each Lot entitled thereto.

PORTFOLIO OF PLANS.

It happens not unfrequently that neighboring proprietors determine to purchase land lying between or near their lots, to be enjoyed in common, as ornamental or monumental ground, and for other like purposes, or that several lots in one vicinity are brought within one inclosure, while it is still desired to retain their several peculiar lots to the several proprietors. At other times it happens, that after a lot has been located to conform to some existing path or avenue, circumstances make it necessary to alter the course of the path or drive-way, and thus change the relative position of the lot. Some lots too are so irregular in form, that it becomes desirable to have the same fully laid out by a plan. It has been found, however, that what is called the large original plan of the Cemetery is still on too small a scale to exhibit such details as have been named, and the Trustees have been reluctant to allow it to be disfigured by the obliterations and amendments necessary to preserve such changes. In order, therefore, to provide some remedy in this and many similar cases which constantly occur, the Trustees have provided a large Portfolio, in which plans of small sections of the Cemetery may be exhibited on a large scale, and any peculiar disposition or dedication of the land readily shown. The plans are required to be upon paper of a uniform size, &c. (which the Secretary will furnish,) and to be prepared by the Corporation Surveyor.* When certified by the Superintendent and Committee on Lots, they will be permanently fixed in the portfolio by the Secretary, for the use of all parties interested.

NOTE. — Another avenue has been laid out in a curved line around the low ground in the rear of the Chapel. No name has yet been given to it. These low grounds have been drained, and will constitute one of the pleasantest parts of the Cemetery, it being the intention of the trustees to have the lawn highly ornamented, and if possible to raise a fountain in the centre. At present, the ground in this vicinity is not for sale, and if any shall be hereafter sold, it will only be at an advanced price, as for choice lots.
